

College of Medicine 2012 Annual Conference | Pre-Conference Workshop

Workshop 3:
Ahead of the game: Anticipating and meeting the needs of an ageing population

2 May 2012, 14.00 – 17.00

The Royal College of Obstetricians and Gynaecologists
27 Sussex Place, London NW1 4RG

Look at active anticipatory care programmes that are innovative and effective in identifying unmet needs of an ageing population, especially those with long term conditions; and can dramatically reduce hospital costs.

Older people are increasingly faced with negative reports in the media. The workshop is aimed at progressing the debate on anticipatory care by presenting the evidence and highlight success in the development of services that:

- Minimise suffering
- Promote and maintain health, function, integration in society and independence
- Enable patients to lead the best life open to them and to remain fit and active for longer
- Reduce the time they spend in institutional care
- Enable users to die with as much dignity and as little suffering as possible

Whether you are a clinician, doctor, nurse, physiotherapist, allied health practitioner, student, patient or someone with an interest in the subject area, we look forward to seeing you.

14.00	Welcome and Introduction Workshop chair: Dr David Beales, Retired GP with a special interest in Behavioural and Elderly Care Medicine
14.10	Building the lived experiences of long-term conditions into the design of health and care services for an ageing population Jamie Keddle, Research Manager, Connected Care
14.30	A review of the evidence–base in anticipatory care Professor Steve Iliffe, Professor of Primary Care for Older People, UCL
15.00	Break
15.10	Vulnerable old people – the nature of the problem Dr Alistair Tulloch, Retired GP and Research Officer Oxford University, with a special interest in care of the vulnerable elderly
15.30	The Gnosall dementia model - Simple, safe, better Dr Ian Greaves, GP/Gnosall surgery, West Midlands
15.50	Discussion
16.10	Patients/Carer’s perspective 'Ways to facilitate and encourage proactive prevention of ill health and supported self-care within the community' Chris and Robin Minett, Action for Ageing
17.00	Workshops closes

	College of Medicine Members	Non - Members	Packages available if also attending other Annual Conference events. Enquiry info@collegeofmedicine.org.uk For booking and more information, visit www.collegeofmedicine.org.uk/annual-conference-2012
Workshop price	£40	£75
Student price	£30	£60	